

THE DEEPAK CHOPRA SCHOLARS FUND

The Deepak Chopra Scholars Fund enrolls the next generation of business and financial leaders in the active creation of a more just, equitable, and sustainable economy through a robust internship at JUST Capital. During a focused 10-week program, these scholars and professionals will help build the backbone of JUST Capital’s research by collecting and analyzing data on how the largest, publicly traded U.S. companies are measuring up to the public’s priorities.

JUST Capital is looking to raise funds to underwrite the cost of our interns’ competitive salaries, benefits, and more.

Your contribution will provide funding to 10-15 interns a year, with each individual delving into research on how corporate America is delivering value to its key stakeholders, including:

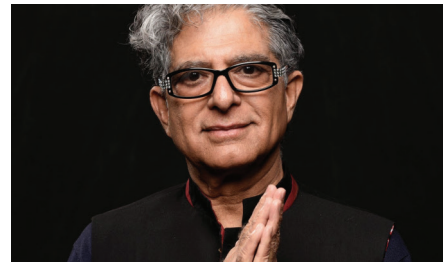

Making a gift to the Deepak Chopra Scholars Fund will directly support JUST’s mission of creating a more equitable economy that works for all Americans. The Fund will support the next generation of leaders and changemakers by ensuring a competitive and fair salary, as well as the opportunity to learn about core tenets of stakeholder capitalism. It will also ensure JUST continues as the leading platform for tracking, measuring, and improving corporate performance in the stakeholder economy while honoring our co-founder, Deepak Chopra. We hope you’ll join us!

Kavya Vaghul
Senior Director
Research

“Our interns are critical to our work. Each year, our group of interns helps collect data on hundreds of data points across nearly a thousand companies, essentially bringing together all of the raw data that we leverage for both our annual rankings and programmatic research work. Their support on the data has enabled the success of some of our biggest projects like our Corporate COVID Response Tracker, Racial Equity Tracker, and Human Capital Metrics framework and, simultaneously, cultivated a diverse pipeline of associates and analysts interested in assessing stakeholder capitalism as the organization continues to grow.”

PLEASE JOIN US IN SUPPORTING THE DEEPAK CHOPRA SCHOLARS FUND:

- > You can make a one-time donation or gift online safely and securely here: <https://justcapital.com/donate/>
- > Or if you’d like more information, and instructions on how to give via wire transfer or a gift of stock – please contact: Jason Rizzi, Director Institutional Advancement 646-809-2152 jrizzi@justcapital.com

Melanie Triplett
Associate
Corporate Engagement

“My internship at JUST Capital gave me direct, hands-on experience in ESG data collection and analysis. I was able to explore the current state of environmental disclosures and develop an understanding of how the field is being shaped by leading companies and organizations throughout my experience.”